PLAIN PAPER COPIER

Printed in Japan

The Mita DC-191. The carefree copier.

Here's the desk-top copier that has it all. The new Mita DC-191 plain paper copier employs a superior fiber optical system and an exclusive dry toning system which produces exceptionally clear, crisp and dry copies. Advanced microcomputer technology makes the entire copying process as easy as touching a few simple keys. And it makes all your copies fast, from statement to ledger size. Perhaps even more importantly, the new Mita DC-191 is a copier you can depend on. This is a direct result of an intensive in-plant environmental testing program and Mita's many years of experience in the image reproduction industry, dating back to 1934.

In fact, Mita copiers are known around the world for their superior reliability and excellent copy quality. You'll see why in more detail on the next page. Count on the Mita DC-191. It's the carefree copier.
